(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) LONDON, March 6 .- Grand Duke Nicholas, according to a Petrograd dispatch is thrusting again at the Teutonic center in Poland after successfully countering all attempts to outflank his forces in Eastern Galicia and East Prussia.

A few days ago the Russians were said to have gained a little on the Bzura and Rawka rivers. Yesterday reports mentioned an attack near Skierniewice. Today Vienna says the Austrians made partial attacks east of Piotrkow. This is about the point where the Austrians and Germans linked. A successful thrust, according to experts would compel a general retirement in central Poland, wounld enable the Russians to resume operations against Carcow, always the foremost in the campaign plan of Nicholas.

AUSTRIANS DEFEATED IN GALICIA.

PETROGRAD, March 6 .- The only present source of information, says the Austrians have suffered a severe defeat in Eastern Galicia and now are retreating toward the Carpathian Mountains. In the mountains to the west the fighting, which has been heavy and continuous for weeks is still on. The armies are contending desperately for the rieges. Losses are said to be heavy as any of the war, but neither side has given way.

The Russians are also attacking along the Dunajec in Western Galicia, apparently without success. In Northern Poland the Rustians are endeavoring to drive the Germans into East Prussia. They are said to be successful in some points. In the western area the French claim progress in the Champagne and Argonne, regions. Berlin says counter attacks have been successful. The progress of the allied fleet in the Dardanelles is still marked by lowering

Two forts were damaged and a magazine of a third blown up. These forts are believed to be strongest along the waterway although those on the other side are almost equal. One of the forts is armed with two blimch gues that could hardly reach the Queen Elizabeth, which fired 29 rounds from her 15-inch guns by indirect fire, aeroplanes directing the numbers. Lighter cruisers will carry the attacks on fortifications of the coast of Asia Miner with a view of preventing reinforcements to the straits, where there is already a large number of Turkish troups, and where marines will be landed to complete the destruction of the outer for-
